Summary/Description

2002 Pursuit 3070 Offshore

2002 Pursuit 3070 Express with only 532 hours on twin Yamaha 225 four strokes featuring new Garmin GPS with radar and fish finder. This model is a perfect combination of day boat, weekender or offshore sport fishing vessel. The large cockpit, easy access to the bow and a very well appointed cabin are readily apparent and will be appreciated.

Cabin

The cabin is snug, but plenty serviceable for overnighting. A double berth lies along the port bow, with a cedar-lined hanging locker and head with shower aft of that. To starboard, a stacked service center includes a microwave, sink and storage beneath. The dinette lies opposite the head, and on the bulkhead above the countertop is the breaker and electrical panel, visible and easy to reach. However you use it, there's no shortage of acreage.

Cockpit

The cockpit is roomy and well laid out for fishing. The bait well in the transom is flanked to starboard by a sink with a shower hose, and to port by a large transom door. A handy jump seat for watching baits is built into the back of the helm. This is a feature Pursuit appears fanatical about, and if you've ever spent time watching the wake, you know how convenient such a seat can be. Opposite the jump seat, to port, is a built-in cooler backed up against the L-shaped passenger seat.
