Summary/Description

A beautifully kept, single-owner, three cabin version that has been fully ocean tested, yet has still very low hours.

When Lagoon designed this 42 they hit the exact sweet spot for couples cruising. They made best use of the busiest living space: the main salon and cockpit. They made dinghy access, launch and storage easy. They moved the mast aft to make the main sail more manageable, and to provide for a big, self-tacking genoa. The U-shaped galley, excellent anchor access, easy and safe boom access, and many other details are top priorities on a cruiser's wish list. The proof is here in the huge market success of this design. Pride of ownership and ease of upkeep is obvious here in Charis.
