One of the most respected boatbuilding companies in the world, Grady-White Boats has a legendary reputation for designing and producing outstanding fiberglass boats. Since 1959, Grady-White has been building boats by quality craftsmen in North Carolina.

The remarkable 330 Express is still in production which is testament to their outstanding boat building success. Some additional stand out reasons for their success include the company's heritage, innovative design, exceptional attention to detail, and award-winning performance. Add to that the highest level of customer satisfaction in the boating industry and you'll love living the Grady Life.

Accommodations

Introduced in 2001, the Grady-White 330 Express has long ranked among the best-selling express fishing boats of her era.

A centerline helm offers excellent 360-degree visibility, and a wide 11'7" beam provides more cockpit and cabin space than most express boats in her class.

Note the pop-up electronics pod at the helm. Standard features include an integrated swim/dive platform, hardtop with radio box, Kohler 5 kW generator, 45-gallon live-well, foldaway rear bench seat, fresh/ raw-water washdowns, cockpit bolsters, transom door, aft-facing cockpit seats, lockable electronics cabinet bait-rigging station with sink, transom fish box, and bow pulpit.

Below decks, the attractive mid-cabin interior of the 330 Express sleeps four and includes teak cabinets, teak-and-holly sole, cherry dining table, full-service galley with microwave and Corian counter, and a roomy head/ shower.
