2013 Seaward 32RK

Yolki Polki is a clean, well-maintained Seaward 32RK that has been lightly used and taken care of by knowledgeable owners. Her 30 hp Yanmar engine is in new-like condition and she has a brand new keel and retraction system supplied by the original designer and manufacturer Nick Hake. If you're in the market for a versatile and comfortable coastal cruiser, this Seaward 32RK is a must see!

The 32RK has combines a traditional curvy sheer line with a modern plumb bow with a short bowsprit and a slightly forward raked transom. There is a swim platform aft that doubles as the mounting position for the outboard rudder. Her vertically retracting foils allows you to lower the add an intriguing dimension to a sailboat that is already a very capable and fun to sail. Her electrically operated retracting keel enables you to lower the keel to whatever depth you want, and to raise it again when the water starts to get thin. Her rudder is also designed to easily be lifted. Pull her up to your favorite sandbar and walk ashore without getting your shorts wet, or sneak into the hidden cove you've been wanting to explore. Or put the the keel down and head offshore with confidence, knowing the ballast is low in a bulb at the tip of the keel.

The innovation of this vessel doesn't end with the exterior; inside she makes the most of her size offering comfortable salon, 2 berths, head with separate shower, full galley with electric refrigeration, propane cooktop, comfortable seating, and plenty of storage.

Her fully battened main and jib are in excellent condition and her bottom was painted in the Spring. 3 new AGM batteries were just installed completing the package.

Highlights Include:

Retractable Keel- 20"/ 6'3"

Yanmar 3YM30 With under 300 hours

Raymarine Hybrid Touch GPS and VHF installed at helm
