66' FAIRLINE 66 1997

Fairline's 66 Squadron is a nautical masterpiece. F66 carries a unique design approach accommodating those with diverse needs. The layout is incomparable unless matched to a much larger yacht. An enclosed flybridge with hardtop and pilothouse allow all weather operations in comfort. Four staterooms and three bathrooms plus separate Captains and Crews Quarters elevate this yacht into a class of its own. F66 has undergone an open checkbook maintenance refit and upfit since arriving in the PNW by yacht transport in 2019.

Realistically, F66 can be classified as an "express motor yacht". However, the design can perform like a trawler where range and economy are desired but also get up and go when conditions require. This combination of economy and performance provide the best of both worlds when cruising the inside passage and beyond.

This well maintained vessel is ready for inspection. Currently in dry brokerage at the Pacific Marine Center in Anacortes, the F66 can be viewed by appointment. Transferrable dry moorage available with purchase, ideal for seasonal PNW boating.

DESIGN CONCEPT:

"Form Follows Function" is a principle proposing purpose prior to aesthetics. Italian designer Bernard Olesinski is a world-leading designer of super yachts and luxury motor yachts. With the Squadron 66, he achieved this masterfully not conforming to the convention, which by definition could have easily yielded a frumpy trawler design.

F 66 broke the mold and is an exceptional luxury cruising yacht well worth serious consideration for exploring Northwest waters.

On the lower level, accommodations include an incomparable (4) stateroom (3) bathroom configuration.

Additionally, there are fore and aft crew quarters perfect for a captain and crew or the grand kids.

MANUFACTURER PROVIDED DESCRIPTION:

Our newest Squadron model, the 66, draws heavily on the innovative features and design concepts of the magnificent Squadron 74. The "big yacht" feel is everywhere... in the huge cockpit which is large enough to accommodate free-standing furniture, a crew cabin with transom access, the optional hydraulic PWC garage, flybridge tender stowage, separate dining area, galley options and port helm arrangements, large portrait portholes to the master stateroom complete with en suite facilities and optional office suite; the list is seemingly endless. Whilst you'd expect clever design and the latest technology from Fairline's dedicated in-house development team, Squadron has become synonymous with "unashamed luxury"; this latest addition doesn't disappoint. The quality of appointments and fit and finish throughout the boat is breathtaking. From the American cheery or honey maple bulkheads and bureau through to the fine leathers, polished stainless steel, wool carpets, exclusive cutlery and porcelain; the total is somehow, yet again, more than the sum of parts.
