Summary/Description

Jano is a custom built one of a kind yacht built by the present owner. Truly a unique, carefully thought out yacht that is ready to cruse to Catalina today or back to the South Pacific.

Jano is a custom built one of a kind yacht built by the present owner. His knowledge of 60 years of cruising and racing experience was put into this design. Built by New Zealand yacht builder Cookson without regard to expense. Exquisite fine wood work in the order of fine furniture is in excellent condition. The unique aft cabin with the Lewmar 70" opening ports give the feeling of sleeping at water level with great light and ventilation. Fantastic viewing of the water leaving the transom. The SS work with the tall stantions and the custom SS bow sprit with anchor rollers and headstay attachment are a piece of art.

Truely a unique, carefully thought out yacht that is ready to cruse to Catalina today or back to the South Pacific.
