This 2001 Bayliner 3988 Command Bridge, named "Largo", has the amenities needed for a comfortable over night or a day cruise. It is powered with twin Cummins 330 Diesels and its dual-helm setup delivers maximum comfort for vertically year-round cruising enjoyment. The generous beam suggests an interior of unusually large dimensions with a high interior headroom that is comfortable even for tall individuals. The salon arrangement provides comfortable seating on two levels, and includes an upper-level galley, dinette opposite and a lower helm station offering exceptional visibility. It has two double staterooms and two head compartments - one with good sized tub, which delivers unsurpassed comfort, privacy and convenience. The spacious bridge deck and generous sport cockpit seating allows for sunning, fishing or simply enjoying the cruising view.
