Summary/Description

"Serendipity II" is an utterly stunning 2013 64 Azimut motor yacht.

Introduction

Serendipity II has been updated, upgraded and serviced like few other yachts in her class. Over the last 24 months, she has been equipped with some of the latest & greatest equipment available - yet even before that, in 2019, Serendipity underwent a significant refit, radically transforming this yacht.

Serendipity II was built as a fully-optioned Azimut 64, and she got better & better from there. Her next owner will not need to rely on mere luck, chance, or "serendipity" to find a truly special vessel - she's right here waiting for him.

Vessel Highlights & Upgrades

- Terrific Condition - Mechanically & Cosmetically, She is Ready to Roll!

Accommodations Overview

Serendipity II's accommodations are nothing short of extraordinary. Walking into the main salon, guests are welcomed by a huge (and updated!) white leather U-shaped sofa. An accompanying coffee table lies in the center of this seating area. Directly across, to starboard, sits the yacht's entertainment center with a large flatscreen Samsung television and Fusion speaker controls. Directly beneath the TV lies a two-person sofa (also in white leather).

Moving forward and up two steps, there is a galley to port and a dinette to starboard. The dinette, comprised of a large leather-clad table with seating for five on a white leather settee, is both a warm-and-inviting breakfast nook, as well as perfectly suited dining area for more formal meals.

The galley, found directly across from the dinette, is fully equipped and more than capable of churning out delicious meal after delicious meal for any & all guests onboard. With stainless steel refrigerators & freezers, a four burner glass ceramic stovetop, and Miele stove & microwave, one will not be lacking for galley equipment.

The lower helm station is directly forward of the dinette. Serendipity II's Seakeepers, updated Garmin electronics, Xenta joystick, and so much more can be found here. This Azimut's helm equipment will bring a knowing, appreciative smile from both professional captains and knowledgeable owners, alike. The windshield and side windows offer such good visibility that any captain would be forgiven for expressing a preference for the lower helm - even when it's 74 degrees with low humidity.

Moving down below deck, a visitor to Serendipity II is greeted by one of the highlights of the yacht - her gorgeous three stateroom guest quarters. But first, before any cabins are inspected, one has to descend a dramatic wraparound stairway, where the Miele washer & dryer, and yet more storage, are located. Midship you will find independent access to the full-beam Master stateroom, allowing for maximum space and a private suite. The Master is notable for a number of reasons - yes, of course, it's impossible large in size. But it's really this stateroom's light wood & white leather wall and headliners; abundant natural light; and sauna-like ensuite bathroom that really distinguishes this cabin.

Moving back to the hallway, there is a day head on the starboard side; adjacent to the day head is a twin guest room with side-by-side berths. Some owners may wish to convert the this guest room into one with a double bed, and this can be done quite easily. The spacious forward VIP has an ensuite bathroom and, like the rest of Serendipity II, plenty of storage!
