Summary/Description

SILANDRA V is one of the very few Custom Yachts built by the renowned Nautor Swan yard. She is a stunning custom ocean-going sailing yacht for long distance cruising, designed to sail round the world ensuring the highest standards of safety on board.

SILANDRA V is one of the very few Custom Yachts built by the renowned Nautor Swan yard.

She is a stunning custom ocean-going sailing yacht for long distance cruising, designed to sail round the world ensuring the highest standards of safety on board (all the main machinery has been doubled for safety purposes: engine, generators...). Built entirely from carbon composite, she delivers outstanding performance also thanks to her lifting keel.

Silandra V custom yacht Swan is genuinely unique, featuring an impressive array of innovations that combine to create the perfect cruising yacht with the power of a racer.

Her current, sole owner since new spent six years sailing her around the world. Silandra V custom yacht Swan is currently undergoing a complete hull repainting and a replacement of the teak to ensure pristine condition for spring 2022.
