Nimbus Boats has now unveiled a third new model following the successful launches of the W9 and T9 models called the Commuter 9 (or C9 for short). The idea behind using a boat as a commuter vessel for everyday activities isn't new, but it's gaining popularity as coastal communities like those in Florida or the Pacific Northwest become more crowded and traffic worsens. The new Nimbus C9 is a functional and comfortable boat with the quality and safety that owners expect from the Swedish-brand. Nimbus is known for going above and beyond safety standards to create the best possible vessel on the water. So if your C9 will be transporting your precious cargo from dock-to-dock, rest assured that Nimbus put that little extra into its quality to ensure you'll get there quickly and comfortably. Aimed at the boat buyer seeking a fast commuter boat, but also wants the flexibility to use it beyond just transportation needs, the Commuter 9 delivers wonderfully.
