The PowerBoat Guide had this to say:

The Donzi 35 ZF is a stepped-hull center console for anglers who want to get where they're going fast. The 35 ZF has more beam than most go-fast center consoles her size which allows for more room on deck for anglers. Built on a high-performance deep-V hull, the 35 ZF was available with an open bow or with a low-profile cuddy cabin with galley, convertible table, and V-berth. With the cuddy version, molded steps provide access to the cabintop that serves as a casting platform. The helm has a spacious dash layout, as well as a lockable equipment box. Standard features include an integrated dive platform, fiberglass T-top with rod holders, 28-gallon transom livewell, insulated in-deck fish boxes, leaning post with rod holders, cockpit shower, raw-water washdown, removable cooler, console tackle box, cockpit bolsters, dive ladder, rod holders, cockpit rod storage, contoured helm seats with drop-down bolsters, console head compartment with sink and shower, transom sink, K-Plane trim tabs, pop-up cleats, and transom door.
