Summary/Description

America has a long history of boat builders who started small and, over the years and with many innovations, grew to international status. That's certainly true for Rinker boats, which Lossie "L.E." Rinker began in the 1930s when building small fishing boats in his Indiana workshop.

America has a long history of boat builders who started small and, over the years and with many innovations, grew to international status. That's certainly true for Rinker boats, which Lossie "L.E." Rinker began in the 1930s when building small fishing boats in his Indiana workshop.

Rinker 320 fiesta vee A powerboat built by Rinker, the 320 fiesta vee is a cruisers vessel. Rinker 320 fiesta vee boats are typically used for day-cruising, overnight-cruising, and saltwater-fishing. These boats were built with a fiberglass modified vee, usually with an inboard-outboard and available in Gas.

This Rinker 320 fiesta vee is a stylish cruiser with a ton of space for a 32' boat. Whether it's a day, overnight, or weekend trip, this boat has it all to make it very enjoyable. It's been well looked after, and maintenance is always done.
